—The McCoy Brothers have received their new barber chairs, which are much nicer and of more modern type, and are open for business in the room occupied by the ten cent store. They will remain there until their new room is completed, work on which began Monday morning.

—There is to be several parties given by the young people in the town the latter part of the week, one called an "ill-mannered" party will be given at the home of A. F. Parrish, Friday night. Another will be given Saturday night at the home of W. H. Hambaugh. We will try and report these parties next week.

—Mrs. Lucinda Sellers returned home from a summer's visit to relatives in Versailles, Ind., last Wednesday. She enjoyed herself while gone and experienced growing health, but on her return she became ill with a gripe, and is now confined to her room at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Nauman.

—Workmen are tearing away the bricks and preparing for the remodeling of the rear room of the Ridge building for the use of a meat market. The side next the Heaton bank will be transformed into an entrance, with nice show windows. The floor will be of cement and it will be steel celled with neatly finished walls. Mr. Wickler intends to conduct his grocery and meat business in this part of the building.

—The young people had a meeting of their Hallows'en club, last Friday evening in the Woodman hall. It was the intention to complete a permanent organization at this time, but conditions were such that it was thought best to postpone the permanent arrangements to a subsequent meeting. Everyone present enjoyed a delightful evening, and plans were laid for another meeting in the near future.

—W. L. Riffe and family departed for their home in Mound City, Monday. Their household effects were transported overland by drays and the family proceeded by automobile. The home they vacated has been sold to C. M. Wickler, who will occupy it at once. Earl Riffe will remain in the employ of Mr. Wickler for a few days helping the new managers to become familiar with the stock, after which he will join his parents in Mound City and be associated with his father in the hardware business at that place.

—Mrs. G. W. Gaskill, Jr., was taken to a hospital in St. Joseph, one day last week, and operated on for cancer. Her many friends are surprised to learn that she is afflicted. We learn that the nature of her trouble is in doubt and the doctors have not determined exactly what is the cause of her sickness, yet is considered serious, but not hopeless. She has been pronounced out of danger, and will in a few days be able to return home. Mrs. Gaskill has many friends in and near Craig that will certainly rejoice in her recovery.

—Word was received here Thursday morning that Miss Nan Taylor, of this city, and Gerald King, of Oregon, were united in marriage. Wednesday evening, at ten o'clock in St. Joseph, by Rev. Dr. Carothers. The mated pair proceeded to Kansas City for their honeymoon. Miss Taylor is one of Craig's most promising young ladies and her many friends will gladly wish her many happy days of wedded bliss. The groom is a very industrious business man of Oregon and numbers his friends by the score. They will make their home in Oregon.

Edmonds.

—Roy Hill and Night Agent Parker, hold the belt for big game hunters in this locality. They captured a large gray wolf the other day with no weapons except their hands and whatever clubs came handy. Sounds fishy, but the boys have the pelt to show for it, and nobody who is acquainted with the boys would think of doubting their story.

—County Collector Aikire's report of the assessed valuation of the merchants' stocks of goods, as printed in last week's SENTINEL, was very interesting reading. We have always maintained that our little burg is the busiest place between Craig and Forest City, and the assessor's figures seem to back us up. The amount of stock carried by the stores of a town ought to be a pretty fair index to the business done, for the stock would not be kept up if business did not warrant it.

—Will Stuart and wife gave a party Saturday evening for their sons,
